the united states is one of the most religious places on earth but it is also a nation of shocking religious illiteracy only 10 percent of american teenagers can name all five major world religions and 15 percent cannot name any nearly two thirds of americans believe that the bible holds the answers to all or most of life s basic questions yet only half of american adults can name even one of the four gospels and most americans cannot name the first book of the bible despite this lack of basic knowledge politicians and pundits continue to root public policy arguments in religious rhetoric whose meanings are missed or misinterpreted by the vast majority of americans we have a major civic problem on our hands says religion scholar stephen prothero he makes the provocative case that to remedy this problem we should return to teaching religion in the public schools alongside reading writing and arithmetic religion ought to become the fourth r of american education many believe that america s descent into religious illiteracy was the doing of activist judges and secularists hell bent on banishing religion from the public square prothero reveals that this is a profound misunderstanding in one of the great ironies of american religious history prothero writes it was the nation s most fervent people of faith who steered us down the road to religious illiteracy just how that happened is one of the stories this book has to tell prothero avoids the trap of religious relativism by addressing both the core tenets of the world s major religions and the real differences among them complete with a dictionary of the key beliefs characters and stories of christianity islam and other religions religious literacy reveals what every american needs to know in order to confront the domestic and foreign challenges facing this country today the crisis of 21st century religion is upon us with fewer people remaining committed to traditional religions and most new religious movements in their infancy where does that leave the vast silent spiritual majority who find the old religions to be obsolete and the new religions to be not yet credible for everyday people who feel lost between a rejected religion of the past and a still obscure religion of the future thinking about religion in the 21st century suggests that there is indeed another way to look at religion fully informed by 21st century sensibilities that requires no sacrifice of the intellect or abandonment of moral sensibilities the old religions can be set aside and the religions of the future might not yet have evolved into something worthy of full commitment but there already exists a viable evolving alternative spiritual perspective grounded in the elements of everyday ordinary human experience already available why should christians care about what atheists believe it is easy to discover what atheists have to say about christianity and christians pick up a book by any modern atheist writer read a few random pages and the reader will have a sampling of the criticisms atheists have regarding religion and people of faith a natural first response is the desire to set the record straight a person responding this way will quickly find themselves going in circles this is one point christians need to accept and understand from the christian s perspective it serves no useful purpose when christians engage atheists in an attempt to set the record straight atheism is a worldview or a way of seeing the world just as the christian sees their christian faith as reasonable and rational the atheist has the same view of what they believe to be true atheists vary in their definition of what it means to be an atheist there are however common themes found in the beliefs of people identifying themselves as atheist it is common for example to find people identifying themselves as atheists to believe the natural world is all there is this of course excludes the supernatural and since god operates outside of nature god is supernatural and is therefore eliminated in the thinking of atheism how should the christian respond when atheists challenge christian beliefs how can the christian respond effectively unless the christian understands what atheists believe how can the christian respond unless the christian understands why atheists believe as they do the apostle paul tells christians to be ambassadors ambassadors need to understand the world in which they serve this is why christians should care about what atheists believe
